BREWING UP SECURITY: BIG WINS WITH RAD-TECH

We're proud to announce that RAD has secured two orders for a range of security solutions, facilitated by one of our largest authorized dealers.

The orders encompass 11 ROSA™ security devices, 6 AVA™ access control solutions, and 2 SCOT™ towers. These devices will be deployed at a global brewing company's corporate campus, and an East Coast parking structure, to autonomously deter trespassing and improve security.

These deployments demonstrate how our cost-effective, AI-powered security solutions are providing an attractive alternative to expensive manned guarding. We're confident that this successful application will encourage further adoption and promotion of our solutions in the future.

This amazing dealer has indicated that they are about to significantly accelerate their adoption ~ Steve Reinharz

AI INVADES MARVEL, NOT ARTISTS' JOBS

Method Studios, behind Marvel Studios' Secret Invasion's AI-created opening sequence, assures no artist jobs were lost in the process. Despite AI tools being used to create character attributes and movements, the production required traditional work by the art department, animators, and other artists. This contradicts social media outcry over potential job losses following the episode's release.

New Dealer Scores Big with ROSA and AVA Solutions

Our team would like to share the success of a recently signed authorized dealer who has managed to secure an order for 5 ROSA™ security devices and 4 AVA™ access control solutions.

The dealer, yet to be named, showcased our products at a regional retail industry conference, sparking immense interest, particularly in our ROSA units for their ability to add cost-effective security to retail properties. Our AVA units, on the other hand, have been marked for distribution and logistics clients.

This order, coming so swiftly after on-boarding the dealer, is a testament to our commitment to providing comprehensive support for our partners, a strategy that has proven beneficial. Delivery and deployment of these units are scheduled for later this summer.
